

RON GALLOWAY

Forward Looking Investment Analysis

AI Health and Diagnostics

Telemedicine in a
Post-Covid World

The Amazon Pharmacy:
The How and Why

5000 Years of Inflation:
Trends Analysis

Diversify with Covered
Call Options Trading

Bitcoin Asset Class
Comparison

Trends Research, Identification, and Application in Investing

Ron Galloway is a finance and business researcher with 35 years experience in the investment field. He is a graduate of Georgia Tech. He has written 3 books, including the forthcoming “The Self-Reliant Investor” with Scott Smith. He has spoken at over 600 financial and business conferences, including all of the nation’s state banking and credit union associations. He has appeared on CNN, CNBC, and the BBC, and has been featured in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and Investors Business Daily.

Ron began his career in 1985 at Robinson Humphrey/Smith Barney in Atlanta as a research analyst. He founded his own investment management firm Foundry Investments in 1992.

In 2005 Ron made the business documentary “Why WalMart Works” which was the first film to ever premiere in the US Capitol Building. He was featured in most major media outlets during this time. Since then he has keynoted 40-50 times per year at financial and business conferences, giving deeply researched talks on investing, the use of A.I. in finance, cryptocurrencies and demographics. He writes institutional reports regarding venture capital and interest rates.

Booking Inquiries:  tammy@royallegalsolutions.com  512-871-0843

 /RoyalLegalSolutions/  royallegalsolutions.com